CEDAR CITY

PAROWAN

The Mother Town

Population: 2,790
Elevation: 6,000 feet.

Parowan’s “Mother Town” nickname comes from being the original southern Utah settlement that spurred the colonization of the west, including places like Cedar City, St George and Las Vegas. Every corner of Parowan has a story to tell from their preserved pioneer homes, to their Heritage Park, Old Rock Church and Meeks Pond. As you explore Parowan you’ll observe that folks hold tight to their roots of faith, family and love of country, celebrating them whenever the occasion presents itself - like when all the kids from elementary to high school age perform pioneer dances at the town birthday party or when descendant families come home for the annual Iron County Fair. Cradling you with a hometown sense of pride, Parowan is straight out of a Norman Rockwell painting with her beautiful tree-lined streets, an old fashioned Main Street and a noticeable lack of traffic lights (no need). Simply put, Parowan is a sweet piece of Americana.

KIDS STUFF
Meeks Pond Urban Fishery located in the heart of Parowan is a great place to catch a big one or feed the resident ducks.
As you walk the tree lined courtyard of the Utah Shakespeare Festival lively music beckons you like a pied piper. Taking your seat in the grand Engelsstad outdoor theater, the spotlight rises and Elizabethan costumed actors take to the stage. You’ve entered a time warp and a magical evening under the stars is about to begin.
Must Do’s

Eight plays are presented in repertory each season in three theaters: the outdoor Engelstad Theatre, which is a replica of Shakespeare’s Globe Theatre, the indoor Randall L. Jones Theatre, a stunning modern facility featuring contemporary works, and the indoor Anes Studio Theatre, an intimate 200-seat performance space.

For some, Shakespeare may be a little overwhelming. Prepare by attending the play orientation just prior to the play’s performance where informative talks are conducted by theatre experts. The Festival also offers free seminars each morning where you can ask the experts, meet actors & directors, share your thoughts and opinions as well as get a close up look at props and costumes that come to life on stage. Backstage Tours allow you to step behind the scenes and visit various production areas and see how all the magic comes together.

One of the most magical (and difficult) aspect of repertory theatre is the twice-a-day scene change. Lighting, scenery, props, costume, and sound technicians must hurry to change everything from the matinee show to the evening show. It is a fascinating and well-choreographed process. Through Repertory Magic, you can witness the scene change, and ask questions as it is happening!

LOCATION: The Utah Shakespeare Festival is part of the Beverley Center for the Arts on the campus of Southern Utah University, 300 W University Blvd. in Cedar City.

SEASON: The festival season generally runs from June through mid-October.

The nightly summer Greenshow is a magical hour of music, dance, storytelling, juggling, snacks and food reminiscent of Merry Ol’ England that’s held in the courtyard surrounding the Engelstad Theatre. Great for kids of all ages, and it’s free!

Trailhead is located in Thunderbird Gardens on 900 North (behind Cedar Ridge Golf course). Note: Trail shared with mountain bikers.

KANARRAVILLE FALLS (FEE AREA)
This is a waterfall hike with the bonus of a slot canyon. Be mindful of flash flood dangers, consult the weather before you go and use your noggin. Also, leave pets at home and pack out all garbage-the creek is the water supply for Kanarraville town. The hike is about 2.5 miles, mainly through water so you will get your feet wet. Trailhead is located in the town of Kanarraville (south of Cedar City along Old Hwy-91). At 100 North turn east toward the water tank. Permits are $12 per hiker. Limited to 150 permits per day. For more information and permits visit www.kanarraville.com

VALENTINE PEAK TRAIL
This is a moderate to advanced trail that is 3.5 miles one way. The elevation change (approx. 2,000 feet) can be challenging for less advanced hikers. Hiram Ackley Hendrickson is credited for naming the Peak. He observed that on Valentine’s Day if you stand at 500 W and Center St in Parowan the sun rises directly over the center of the peak, hence the name! Trailhead is located at the Parowan Cemetery (834 Canyon Road, Parowan).

Cycling

Cedar City is enthusiastic about the world of cycling, being an official host for the Tour of Utah “America’s Toughest Stage Race” and a major point on the Western Express Bicycle Route, which connects San Francisco, California to Pueblo, Colorado. Cedar City has designated several miles of bike lanes inside the city limits along major city roads and their arteries for your safety and enjoyment.
Popular Rides

WESTERN EXPRESS BICYCLE ROUTE
(Best in Spring and Fall; Summer traffic on Hwy 14 is heavy and there is no shoulder or bike lane – avoid weekends) This is a 1,579 mile (2,541 km) bicycle tour route that connects San Francisco, CA, on the west coast to the TransAmerica Bicycle Trail in Pueblo, CO. It provides a shorter mileage option (476 miles less when compared to the TransAmerica Trail) on a central cross-country route but challenges the rider with extreme weather and riding conditions, as well as logistical obstacles. One’s efforts are rewarded, however, by experiencing some of the most magnificent areas of the American West. Routes through Iron County are #70 & #74

MAMMOTH CREEK LOOP
(Best in mid-summer. 35 miles, lots of climbing, medium to heavy traffic) Begin at the intersection of Hwy. U-14 and Hwy. U-148 through Cedar Breaks National Monument - stop at the overlooks. A fun downhill stretch along Hwy. U-143 to Mammoth Creek Road then south to U-14, where there is a bit of uphill to your car.

CEDAR CITY TO NEW HARMONY RIDE
(Best in Spring-Fall. Approximately 50 miles round trip, relatively flat, medium traffic) This is an “out and back” ride on the frontage road Old Hwy. 91 through the towns of Kanarraville out to New Harmony. The scenic views of Kolob Canyons on your way back from New Harmony make this worth the trip.

PAROWAN GAP
(Best in spring, summer and fall. Approximately 50 miles, relatively flat, light traffic) A fairly easy out and back ride from Cedar City along Old Hwy. 91 to historic Parowan, then west past the Dinosaur footprints to the Parowan Gap Petroglyphs historic site.
FISHING

Head in any direction in southern Utah and you’ll find several lakes, streams and reservoirs to cast your line into. Fish for Small Mouth Bass, Blue Gill, Crappie, Catfish, Brook, Cutthroat, German Brown and Rainbow Trout. Notable fishing areas include Navajo Lake, Panguitch Lake, and Yankee Meadow. Check out urban fisheries at the Lake at the Hills, 2090 W. Royal Hunte Dr. in Cedar City and Meeks Pond, 100 North 400 West in Parowan. Fishing licenses and reports are available at most sporting goods stores or online at wildlife.utah.gov.

We share a home with a variety of accessible wildlife – this is a great opportunity to learn their habits and capture their beautiful natural interactions. However, be sure to use caution and respectfully admire them from a distance. These are all prime opportunities to capture the elements that contribute to southern Utah’s beUTAHful reputation.
CEDAR BREAKS NATIONAL MONUMENT

Elevation: 10,100 to 10,500
21 miles from Cedar City

The early Paiute people called Cedar Breaks the “Circle of Painted Cliffs” referring to multi colored stone ridges of this naturally carved amphitheater. Home to curious wildlife and Bristlecone pines that have been hanging around since the last millennium, time seems to stand still at Cedar Breaks and that’s really not a bad thing.

Must Do’s

The Cedar Breaks Hwy U-148 offers beautiful views of the rock formations, meadows and forests. You can connect to Hwy U-148 via Hwy U-143 from Brian Head or by Hwy U-14 from Cedar City. Remember the Scenic Drive is closed in the winter. The Alpine Pond Trail is a moderate two mile route offering excellent views of the wildflower meadows. Spectra Point/Ramparts Trail leads for one mile to the Spectra Point Overlook. Hikers who are prepared for a slightly more strenuous stretch on this trail may continue one mile further to the Ramparts Overlook.

July and August, the meadows surrounding Cedar Breaks are full of wildflowers and late September, the fall colors really start to shine. Recently, USA Today rated the Cedar Breaks area as one of their “Top 5 Unique Places to See Fall Colors”. Check out our updated fall color report online at www.visitcedarcity.com starting the first week of September.

Geology talks and evening campfire programs are offered by park rangers each day. Check with the Visitor Center for schedule. KOLOB CANYONS
ZION NATIONAL PARK

Elevation: 5,500 to 7,000
19 miles from Cedar City

“Kolob” is a word from Mormon scripture that means “star closest to heaven”. As you round that first corner in the Kolob scenic byway you just might agree.

(435) 586-9548 or visit nps.gov/zion
Must Do’s

Kolob Canyons is one of the few national parks that can be experienced from the comfort of your own vehicle - but why limit yourself? The scenic drive is only 12 miles round trip with several overlooks and trailheads to get your feet moving.

The easiest hike in Kolob is the one mile Timber Creek Trail, which is located at the Canyon Overlook Picnic Area. The Middle Fork of Taylor Creek is a moderately strenuous trail that leads to a scenic double arch alcove.

For a great day hike, one of the world’s largest freestanding arches can be found seven miles up the LaVerkin Creek trail. LaVerkin Creek, Willis Creek and Hop Valley trails offer excellent backpacking opportunities and connection to backcountry trails into some of the Zion Main Canyons. Permits are required for backcountry camping and are issued at the Kolob Canyons Visitor Center.

Kolob is wildly popular for afternoon picnics especially at the Canyon Overlook with its incredible panoramic view.

VISITOR CENTER: Open all year from 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. with extended hours in summer.

SEASON: Open all year.

FEES: A 7-day pass (per vehicle) into the park is $35, which includes entrance into the Zion Main Canyon. The Zion National Park entrance fee is honored here.

CAMPING: Overnight camping facilities are not available inside the park. Tenting and RV sites are available in the nearby towns of Kanarraville and Cedar City. Backcountry camping requires a permit.

KIDS STUFF

During the summer months, park rangers offer several activities including guided hikes and nature walks that give kids the “inside scoop” to the wonders of Kolob. Check at the Visitor Center for a schedule.
BRYCE CANYON NATIONAL PARK

Elevation: 6,900 to 9,100
79 miles from Cedar City

Bryce Canyon National Park’s intricate spires and formations, known as hoodoos, defy your imagination. Venturing deep into the vast depths of the canyons, you’ll yearn to explore every turn in the trail. Looking at the strange monoliths reaching for the sky, you’ll ask yourself “is this earth or another planet?” Now that’s a getaway!

(435) 834-5322 or visit nps.gov/brca
Must Do’s
Exploring the park is easy. There’s over 50 miles of hiking and nature trails; the easiest is the 1/2-mile (one way) section of the Rim Trail between Sunset and Sunrise Points. Another favorite is the Navajo Loop, a moderately strenuous trek that begins at Sunset Point and descends 520 feet through a slot canyon known as “Wall Street.” Spring thru fall, wranglers lead 2-hour and 4-hour horse and mule rides into the Bryce Amphitheater, or you can simply drive the Bryce Canyon scenic road. If you only have a few hours, stop at Sunrise, Sunset, Inspiration and Bryce points. Have all day, go all the way to Rainbow Point and take in all 13 viewpoints on your return trip. Bryce Canyon faces east, so it’s easier to pull into the viewpoints on your way back.

Clear mountain air and a location far from city lights and air pollution make for some of the starriest night skies in the country. Park Rangers provide several star gazing programs, including telescope viewing, constellation tours, full moon hikes and astronomy talks.

Winter brings plenty of snow to Bryce Canyon but don’t let that deter you from visiting. The red rock spires or “hoodoos” are a sight to behold when dusted in a blanket of white. Nordic skiing and snowshoeing allow you to view the amphitheater in a whole new way and the ski-set trails inside the park are interconnected with groomed ski tracks at nearby Ruby’s Inn Nordic Center.

VISITOR CENTER: Open all year from 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. with extended hours in summer.

SEASON: Open all year with the peak season being May–October.

FEES: Entrance fees (per vehicle) into the park are $35, good for seven days.

CAMPING: North Campground is open all year. Most sites are on a first-come, first-served basis. Some sites are available for advance reservation at www.recreation.com.

BRYCE CANYON SHUTTLE: The optional Bryce Canyon Shuttle operates daily May through Sept. The shuttle is free with your park entrance fee and stops at the visitor center plus all the viewpoints in the park’s main amphitheater. Shuttle schedule is available at entrance station.

KIDS STUFF
ZION CANYON NATIONAL PARK

Elevation: 3,600 to 8,700
69 miles from Cedar City

The forces of water is what created Zion and the sound of it rushing down a spring waterfall invokes a sense of wonder and excitement. Zion is revered as a spiritual place but it’s truly heaven on earth for “bucket list” adventure.

(435) 772-3256 or visit nps.gov/zion
Must Do’s

Most visitors to Zion are here to hike and there are plenty of opportunities for that. The best hike is the Emerald Pools with its lower, middle and upper pools sectioned so you can customize your trip from a fairly easy walk to something more adventurous. Angel’s Landing is a five mile hike that’s strenuous but extremely rewarding for those with no fear of heights.

Get with a local guide for the ultimate Zion thrill-canyoneering! A true adventure where you often wade through water, repel off cliffs and squeeze yourself through narrow slot canyons.

Park rangers provide the inside scoop to all things Zion. Everything from Junior Ranger programs, guided hikes, daytime talks, and evening programs are offered. For really in-depth stuff, the Zion Canyon Field Institute offers workshops, field trips and service learning projects year-round. Topics often include geology, archeology, photography, flora and fauna. Call (800)635-3959 or www.zionpark.org.

The human history of the park is on display at the Zion Human History Museum, showcasing American Indian culture, historic pioneer settlement, and Zion’s growth as a national park.

VISITOR CENTER: Open all year from 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. with extended hours April - October.

SEASON: Open all year with the peak season being April-October.

FEES: Entrance fee per vehicle is $35, good for seven days.

CAMPING: Watchman Campground is open all year. By reservation only at www.recreation.gov.

ZION CANYON SHUTTLE: March through November, the upper Zion Canyon is only accessible by National Park Service Shuttle. All other park roads are open. The shuttle is free with the entrance fee and operates from early morning until late evening. Shuttles are wheelchair accessible. Pets are not allowed on the shuttle. Pet boarding is available in Rockville and Cedar City.

ZION TUNNEL RESTRICTIONS: Vehicles 7’10” in width or 11’4” in height and/or larger are required to schedule access through the Zion/Mt Carmel tunnel. Pay fee at either park entrance. Any vehicle over 13’1” tall, semi-trucks, vehicles over 40’ long, and bicycles are prohibited.

SCENIC DRIVES

You know the famous saying “it’s all about the journey” and thankfully our scenic highways (also designated as byways) give you all the elements you seek in a memorable road trip - an eyeful of inspiring landscapes, a pinch of local history, profound geology, quaint towns and diverse wildlife. These drives are suitable for travel by most passenger vehicles and Cedar City is lucky to have not just one but FOUR scenic byways in our midst. They are a destination in and of themselves, they also serve as the scenic connection to the Mighty Five® national parks, several state parks, two national monuments, one national recreation area and more than two million acres of national forest land.

STAR GAZING
AND NIGHT SKIES

We are fortunate here in southern Utah to gaze upon the natural phenomena in the skies above thanks to our naturally dark skies. In fact, we are considered one of the best places in the world to stargaze. In March 2017, Cedar Breaks National Monument was officially designated as an International Dark Sky Park® recognizing the monument as a night sky sanctuary; the first of its kind in southwest Utah. Such recognition is timely, because the ability to see the stars is rapidly disappearing across the world due to light pollution.

When looking up at a dark night sky, we’re essentially seeing the same sky that humans have viewed for thousands of years. The same sky that evoked countless celebration, myths, art, literature and music from cultures around the world. It’s a timeless and boundless human resource.

We might think of dark night skies as something only valued by amateur astronomers as well as casual stargazers, however, the natural darkness is essential for animals and humans. Nearly half the Earth’s animal species are nocturnal. Humans rely on natural light and darkness to set our biological clocks to the Earth’s 24-hour day cycle; which is essential to our health and well-being.

So if you are inspired to explore the beauty of the night sky and the wonderful world that comes alive, here are some ideas to make your personal star party memorable:
Star Gazing Around Town

When you head out at night to stargaze be prepared for a cool night. Let your eyes adjust to the wonder above.

Look for a place that lacks a lot of artificial light, like a city park or open field. Find the Big Dipper. The last two stars in the cup of the Big Dipper point to the North Star, which is just a bit dimmer than the individual stars in the Big Dipper.

To find more constellations, download a stargazing app like SkyView®, Night Sky® or Pocket Universe® or pick up constellation maps from the Cedar City Visitor Center located at 581 North Main.

To help navigate at night without compromising your night vision, make a red flashlight. Use red paper or cellophane to cover a white flashlight.

Attend a Star Party at Cedar Breaks National Monument (nps.gov/cebr) or with the Southern Utah Space Foundation (SUSF.org). There you can find amateur astronomers and experts sharing views through their telescopes.

Check out a telescope! Just like a book, you can check out a high-quality telescope from the Cedar City Library located at 303 North 100 East.

In the Forest

Look for the Milky Way stretching across the night sky. What looks like a faint cloud is actually the light from millions and millions of distant stars. The Milky Way is our home galaxy and is best seen in summer and fall evening skies.

If the full moon is up, the Milky Way will be hard to see. Try going for a night hike instead! Let your eyes adjust to the moonlight and keep your flashlight turned off (but available for safety if needed) or use the red flashlight you made.

In a National Park

Camp under the stars. Watch the stars and planets move across the night sky.

National parks are great places to get to know the animals that are nocturnal—wildlife that is awake at night and asleep during the day. Sit quietly and listen for these creatures.

Many national parks, including Cedar Breaks National Monument, Bryce Canyon and Great Basin offer night sky programs from star parties to full moon walks with rangers.

To learn more about the night sky, upcoming astronomy events, stargazing activities and simple things you can do to protect the night sky for future generations, go to these websites: visitcedarcity.com/dark-skies cpdarkskies.org • nps.gov/cebr/star-gazing • susf.org • nps.gov/nightskies
Scenic backways and unpaved roads are not recommended in the winter months or in rainy conditions.

SPY ADVENTURE

Utah Spy Adventure
utahspyadventure.com
Imagine for a moment you’re a stagecoach driver steering his team across the Old Spanish Trail, a pioneer woman crossing the plains in a covered wagon, or a steam shovel operator digging ore in an iron mine. Rather than imagine, why not experience all of this at Cedar City’s own Frontier Homestead State Park Museum, where interactive displays and exhibits bring the early history of Cedar City and southern Utah to life.

You’re greeted at the museum entrance by a 250,000 pound steam shovel used in the early days of the iron mines. Climb into this behemoth, as well as the Union Pacific caboose next to the shovel, for the perfect picture taking opportunity. Inside the museum is a world of preserved stage coaches and wagons. Also, peruse the special art and history exhibits that change on a quarterly basis.

The back of the museum is the “Homestead”, with several preserved historic structures representing life of an early pioneer settlement. Here you can explore the Hunter House, Deseret School House, Sawmill, Blast Furnace, Sheep Shearing Shed and the Palisade. Each has a self-guided activity station for making rope, panning for gold, load a wagon, and write your name in the Deseret (Mormon) alphabet.

Parowan Gap Petroglyphs

Wind, water and sand carved out this natural passageway that was once used as a major thoroughfare by ancient people. The different cultures are evident by the hundreds of petroglyphs carved into Parowan Gap including geometric designs, lizards, snakes, mountain sheep, bear claws and human figures. With over 90 panels and 1,500 figures, the Gap is believed to be one of the most concentrated collections of petroglyphs in the West - and one of the most accessible (just a few miles off the Interstate).

Researchers have identified what they believe to be solar and lunar calendars, plus hunting and cultural glyphs which provided early civilizations with a calendaring system where various solar time events are marked by shadows cast by the natural rock formations. The Bureau of Land Management recently completed a project to provide long-term preservation of the resources at the site including a visitor trail, public parking, restroom facilities and several interpretive signs. The signs tell the different interpretations and meanings of the rock writings, specifically what they mean to the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah.

Getting to Parowan Gap: From Cedar City drive 13 miles north on Hwy U-130, then east on Parowan Gap road for 2.5 miles. From Parowan Main Street travel west on 400 North for 10.5 miles.

See how our local businesses have put their own twist on the delicious cinnamon roll as you explore Parowan

Just 20 Miles North of Cedar City!

PAROWAN VISITOR CENTER
5 South Main, Parowan
Parowan.org • (435)477-8190

Sponsored by the Parowan Chamber of Commerce • Parowan City • Visit Cedar City • Brian Head

A stop in Parowan for a delicious cinnamon treat evokes memories of a simpler time.

As the first settlement in southern Utah, Parowan is affectionately called the “Mother Town”.

Many of the original homes and buildings still line the streets of the community, giving visitors a nostalgic trip back to pioneer times.

Heritage museums, a pioneer cemetery, and numerous historic sites are open for visitors to see.

Parowan is the gateway to some of the area’s spectacular scenic attractions, state and national parks, and Utah’s Patchwork Scenic Byway 143.

LOCALLY CRAFTED BEER & WINE

Exciting things are happening in Cedar City, especially when it comes to finding a locally crafted adult beverage to sip and savor. A burgeoning craft scene has emerged that started with the debut of southern Utah’s first winery and the recent opening of Cedar’s first nano-brewery. Cheers!

IG WINERY & TASTING ROOM

Winery owner Doug McCombs brings his penchant for fine wines to his unique signatures blends and single varietals. The world has taken notice of IG Winery, with several gold and silver medals from Grand Harvest Wine Competition as well as gold at the International Wine Competition Sommelier Challenge. Enjoy a glass of wine in their relaxing tasting room and take a tour of the wine production area.

Call ahead for tasting room hours: 59 West Center Street, Cedar City 435-867-9463 • igwinery.com

UTAH’S LIQUOR LAWS

Adults of legal age can order and consume beer, wine and hard liquor at bars, pubs, restaurants and a variety of other establishments throughout the state.

• You must be 21 to purchase or consume alcoholic beverages in Utah. Alcoholic beverages (wine, liquor, and beer) are available two ways in Utah: by the drink, or packaged by the bottle.

• Mixed drinks, heavy beer and wine may be ordered with food in most restaurants from 11:30am - 1am. Patrons may be served at their tables or in waiting areas.

• Taverns and beer establishments sell beer from 11:30am - 1am. This includes a variety of venues: taverns, lounges, cabarets, nightclubs, cafes, bowling centers, golf courses, etc. Beer may be purchased without ordering food and is sold on draft and in bottles and cans. (Service in a licensed restaurants does require that you order food with your drink.) Beer sales “to go” are also allowed, but not in open containers.

• Packaged beer is also available at supermarkets, grocery and convenience stores. The maximum alcohol content is five percent by volume, or 4 percent by weight for beer sold in taverns, beer establishments and stores.

• Packaged liquor, wine, and heavy beer "to go" are sold at state liquor stores throughout Utah. State liquor stores accept cash, check, and credit cards, and are closed on Sundays and holidays.

• Other package agencies are often located in hotels and resorts for customer convenience. Many hotels and resorts offer alcoholic beverages via room service.
